

WHEN IT COMES TO CHILD CARE, VERMONT MUST BUILD STRONGER.

Early care and education is essential to our state's families and the economy. As we begin to plan for our new future, we must work toward a child care system that is stronger, more equitable, and sustainable. If we don't invest in moving forward, we risk falling even further behind and further entrenching the fragile and inequitable model that has failed kids, families, and Vermont for decades.

Skilled early childhood educators play a crucial role in supporting children's emotional and social development and providing the strong start that every child deserves. Affordable access to high-quality child care also allows parents to look for work and start a job or attend school, leading to more equitable labor force participation and a more solid path to economic security for families.

We are hopeful that after witnessing the impacts of life without child care, Vermonters can come together to strengthen our child care system so that it supports and values children, early educators, and working families for what they are—the heart of our society and the backbone of our economy.

We have much work to do together in the coming years to build the strongest possible early care and education system and achieve the vision laid out by Vermont's Blue Ribbon Commission on Financing High Quality, Affordable Child Care. In 2020, Vermont must focus on the following immediate priorities using CARES Act funding. Line-item funding estimates for each of these priorities are available here; we estimate an overall need of approximately $33 million.

SUPPORT CHILDREN AND FAMILIES.

Although much is still unknown about COVID-19 and its impacts, we do know the economic and psychological effects of the pandemic directly impact children—and have exponentially greater impacts on children whose families were already struggling. Even before the pandemic, child care was unaffordable for many families, often costing more than tuition at a state college. Through expanded child care financial assistance and other permanent solutions, we can ensure families have access to safe, developmentally focused options for the foreseeable future by:

- Increasing Child Care Financial Assistance Program (CCFAP) reimbursement rates to reflect the increased cost of providing care during this pandemic.
- Expanding CCFAP work search qualifications beyond 12 weeks to provide families adequate time to find work as the economy slowly reopens.
- Basing CCFAP payment on enrollment, not attendance, so that low-income children don't lose child care slots if they are unable to immediately access child care.

WHEN IT COMES TO CHILD CARE, VERMONT MUST BUILD STRONGER.

ADEQUATELY COMPENSATE CHILD CARE PROGRAMS TO ADHERE TO NEW COVID-19 HEALTH AND SAFETY GUIDELINES.

Child care programs must provide a safe environment for children and staff to minimize the spread of COVID-19. For this to happen, the state should:

- Provide generous, flexible grants to all programs that reopen, when they reopen, to support increased costs such as supplies, deep cleaning, structural changes to facilities, staffing, and lost income due to limited attendance.
- Allow for a lengthy transition period as staffing, enrollment, and class size issues are resolved in this new regulatory environment..
- Provide an additional round of funding for programs that are unable to open until later in the summer. Funds allocated must be sufficient to cover operations of both child care and summer and afterschool programs.

Child care programs should also have access to critical health and safety supplies through the state's procurement system as long as these supplies are necessary to maintain COVID-19-specific health and safety guidelines.

The voices of early childhood educators and child care programs must be directly represented in conversations about guidance and supports for the field. The state Administration should partner with the Vermont Association for the Education of Young Children to accomplish this.

SUPPORT EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATORS.

Child care professionals are the backbone of our essential early care and education infrastructure—we have to do a better job of acknowledging and enriching their child-development skills and paying them what they are worth, especially since they will continue to be at high risk for exposure to COVID-19. If we truly value early childhood education as the backbone of other industries, then those who are providing the service every day need to be paid in alignment with their value, skills, and competencies. CARES Act funds should be allocated to supplemental pay for early childhood educators through the remainder of 2020. Professional preparation and training—including scholarships—should also be funded through CARES Act funds so our early childhood education workforce is equipped to navigate these uncharted waters.

DEVELOP NECESSARY INFRASTRUCTURE.

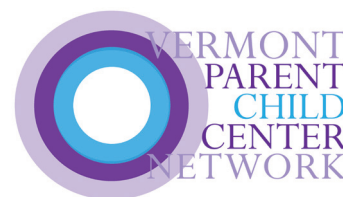

The IT system that currently supports Vermont's early care and education system and the administration of CCFAP is significantly outdated and a major barrier to the efficient and effective administration of new programs and resources during the state's COVID-19 response. In recent weeks, the IT system has made it much more difficult for the state to perform necessary functions to respond to the crisis, such as identifying child care programs willing to serve the children of essential personnel and processing and distributing stabilization payments to programs. The state's child care IT system will be critically important in the coming months as guidance, capacity, demand, and funding for child care will be rapidly changing. With a one-time investment of CARES Act funds, the state can purchase and implement a new IT system to effectively administer Vermont's ECE system through the COVID-19 recovery period and beyond.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, urge policymakers to immediately implement these supports to ensure that Vermont's critical child care system is positioned to effectively support our recovery in the short-term and enable us to emerge from this crisis stronger and more resilient in the long-term.
