FYI, in case you get any requests for a statement today on Trump's ugly comments. I hope you do! Sue

"These comments are appalling. As the father of two grown daughters, the thought that this man, with this demeaning view of women, could be the president of our nation is unimaginable. There is a war against women taking place in this nation, a terrible effort to roll back women's rights and demean our wives, sisters and daughters. These comments echo an on-going rant against women from Donald Trump, who clearly places no value on girls or women and long ago abdicated any right to represent them in the White House."
