

Chair Stevens,

The latest draft of the Tri-Park language in S.237 is in black below. We (Erhard, Sue and I) suggest revising as shown in red and believe it will meet most of DEC's concerns. We are not clear if they will be okay with the word "forgiveness." But think it is important to add. Erhard researched the underlying federal rules and believes forgiveness is an option. DEC had asked that forgiveness be struck, but if it is allowed, it seems better to include it. The language says "to the extent" feasible, which means they would not be required to forgive if the federal rules or other circumstances do not allow it.

DEC also suggested that "other small communities" should be better defined. It's a good point and we suggest it just be deleted.

Commissioner Walke told me he was planning to get back to the committee with an update. I don't know if he has and we hope this language works.
