What does this mean for Legislators?

Programs and Agencies have two kinds of responsibility:

1. Program Management: Produce best possible performance best outcomes for people served
2. Community Leadership: Bring together partners to make progress at the population level

Legislators also have two kinds of responsibility:

1. Public Policy: Set the direction and create the opportunity for partners across sectors to make progress at the population level
2. Appropriation: Support and sustain programs/initiatives that produce the best possible performance and outcomes for people served

Why Use Results Based Accountability?

Why Improve Performance?

- RBA is a framework for making complex change at a population level and for embedding continuous improvement into management practices at agencies, programs, and throughout service systems.
- Methodologies like the RBA Turn the Curve exercise, or Lean, etc. are all ways to improve performance using data, but RBA gives us a larger framework within which to understand the role that we all have to play in doing better for Vermonters.
- RBA Benefits:
  - To improve quality of life and well-being for Vermonters, and see better outcomes as a result of our programs and services;
  - Create capacity within existing programs and initiatives to do better without more money;
  - Share successful strategies across sector and collaborate to improve complex conditions of well-being in the state;
  - Embed continuous improvement practices at all levels of the organization – from Agency-wide to specific process;
  - Reform contracts/grants to be less prescriptive: specify what outcomes we want, not how to get it done;
  - Focus on quantifying progress for the whole state/population and quantifying progress in program performance aligns with effective strategic planning;
  - Encourages everyone to come to consensus on achievable results and to manage services to achieve those results.

Story Behind the Curve

Last Updated: January 2014

Author: Alcohol & Drug Abuse Programs, Vermont Department of Health

Over the last decade, the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Programs has supported a comprehensive, evidenced-based substance abuse prevention approach. This means prevention efforts are delivered across a wide range of categories including individual, family, school, community, and through effective policy implementation. These efforts have been successful in reducing Vermont youth involvement with alcohol and drugs. For example, according to the Vermont Youth Risk Behavior Survey (YRBS), the number of students reporting alcohol use prior to age 13 has significantly decreased (-62%). Significant reductions were also achieved in the proportion of students who have ever used alcohol. Schools are indispensable partners in Vermont's substance abuse prevention strategy.

Early identification of substance use issues has been shown to improve treatment and recovery efficacy and significantly enhance overall prevention outcomes. Screening and referral services for substance abuse and mental health using evidence-based tools (CRAFFT and GAIN short screener) are essential components of our School-based Substance Abuse Services (SBSAS) grants. Select staff at funded schools are trained in the use of these tools. Screening should be used to supplement (not replace) the judgment of clinical line staff. Additional information should also be considered, such as collateral reports, background information, etc. While in most cases referral is appropriate, not everyone who screens positive should be referred on for additional services, which is why the target for this performance measure is less than 100%.
