Statement of Lt. Governor Gray on Veterans Day

“On Veterans Day in Vermont, we honor the over 43,000 veterans who call our state home, as well as the millions more across the country who have served and sacrificed to protect our nation.

Vermont has a long history of military service, going as far back as the Green Mountain Boys’ participation in the American Revolution. Our brave servicemen and women have risked their lives to secure our freedoms in the line of duty, and it is our continued duty to ensure they receive the support and care they deserve.

Thank you to our veterans, their families and our future veterans – our active duty troops – for your commitment, your sacrifice, and your courage. We are forever indebted to your service.”
