

I hope my testimony was helpful to the task force.

I did want to follow-up, as I offered to share a link to the Chronicle of Higher Ed Survey of College Freshmen. Here's a link to the data: https://www.chronicle.com/article/backgrounds-and-beliefs-of-college-freshmen/?bc\_nonce=gqmj96uhgzoveq09mwpmo&cid=reg\_wall\_signup. You can click off the different areas of study to isolate education majors, once you have the chart up. It can be helpful, as there is a lot on the chart.

The website may require you to sign-up to see this content, so I also took a screenshot of the chart. Education is the third from the bottom (the middle green color). Please feel free to share, if it is useful.

Best,
Dan Doonan
Executive Director
National Institute on Retirement Security
202-457-8190
Dan@nirsonline.org