Vermont Secretary of State Jim Condos
Announces Official Results of Statewide Primary Elections

Montpelier, VT – Today Vermont Secretary of State Jim Condos announced the official results of the Vermont Primary Elections held on Tuesday, August 14th.

Vote totals and winners for all statewide offices were certified today by Secretary Condos and a designee from each of Vermont's three major parties. Vote totals and winners for County office, State Senate, and State Representative were canvassed at the town and county level.

"My office and Elections Division staff have been working around the clock alongside Municipal Clerks and local election workers to ensure a smooth election, and I am proud of our work" said Secretary Condos. "We have taken considerable steps in the past several years to improve access for voters, decrease roadblocks, and make our system of administering elections effective and efficient, and I think this year's higher than expected turnout, and lack of any major issues, is real evidence of that."
