

Lyle has recently been appointed as the executive director of the Chamber & Economic Development of the Rutland Region (CEDRR). CEDRR resulted from the merger of Rutland Economic Development Corporation and the Rutland Region Chamber of Commerce. Prior to this, Lyle served as Director of the Career & Technical Teacher Education Program at Vermont Technical College. Lyle was also the Dean of Entrepreneurial Programs at Castleton University and held previous positions in public education for 30 years. Lyle, a life-long Vermonter, is the father of four children. He resides in Rutland City with his wife Lori.
