- 7. Public Comment

Teresa Merelman asked about the two Vermont energy courses that were on the last agenda. Those courses were both approved through the office.

Teresa also asked about the state exam and whether it was an open book exam. The Office reported that, yes, it is an open book examination.

Jess Peck and Kathy Sweeten of the Vermont Association of Realtors had multiple questions and comments on the Vermont Energy course that is mandatory under 3 V.S.A. § 138 for license renewal and is currently being offered for free by OPR. Lauren Layman explained that Real Estate licensees are one of seven professions that are required to take this course, and the Office will continue for the time being to provide the course for free to ensure all licensees have the course available and the requirement will not be a barrier for renewal. OPR is always open to further discussions with anyone who needs additional information or has questions.
