Statement of Lt. Governor Molly Gray on Town Meeting Day

Montpelier, Vt. — This morning, Lt. Governor Gray released the following statement on Town Meeting Day:

“Today, I wish Vermonters a happy and productive Town Meeting Day! The first Tuesday in March, Town Meeting Day, is a special tradition in Vermont and American democracy. Town Meeting Day brings Vermonters together in a common meeting place to vote by voice, hand or paper ballot and is one the most direct forms of democracy in the world. It’s important we recognize Vermont’s continued commitment to democracy and the uniqueness of Town Meeting Day, when Vermonters can work directly with their elected government to address local issues and discuss future opportunities.”
