Secretary of State Jim Condos to Speak at 2015 Town Officers' Education Conferences

Montpelier, VT – Secretary of State Jim Condos will be the Keynote Speaker at the 2015 Town Officers' Education Conferences this month. Three all-day conference sessions are being held across the state in April; the first in Burlington on April 1st, the second in Fairlee on April 22nd and the third in Killington on April 29th.

Secretary Condos will be speaking at each of the three locations at 12pm about Open Meeting Law and transparency in government.

Secretary Condos states, "I am pleased to have the opportunity to speak to both veteran and newly elected town officers on Open Meeting Law and transparency in government."

This program is sponsored by UVM Extension with assistance from partnering organizations. The conferences will each be a full day of informative workshops for Town Clerks, Treasurers, listers, selectboard members, and citizen volunteers to learn about issues pertinent to Vermont municipalities.

Secretary Condos comments, "I encourage local officials to take advantage of these conferences and attend one in their area. It is a unique way to meet with other municipalities and to learn and share ideas."
