Have sent to TJ and trying to connect with him. This is what Bobby would like to pitch to GPS with two VLS students, in the realm of "ban the box" type work for this session. This would just allow people with non-violent convictions to seek expungement from a judge in less than 10 years if they meet certain "pro-social" criteria like getting a GED, completing counseling, military service, etc. The proposal makes sense to me and I would not expect significant push-back. FYI if it comes up tomorrow. Perhaps could be a joint legislative proposal. Bobby's main ask has been trying get a brief meeting with GPS on this with the two VLS students.
