Secretary Condos Attends National Association of Secretaries of State 2016 Summer Conference

Montpelier, VT – Secretary of State Jim Condos, Deputy Secretary Chris Winters, and Elections Director Will Senning travelled to Nashville this past weekend to attend the annual National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) 2016 conference. They were joined by 40 other Secretaries along with government and industry leaders to address state policies and programs pertinent among Secretaries of State.

“It is always a privilege to spend the weekend with my fellow Secretaries from across the nation,” stated Secretary Condos. “This year I was glad to see a focus on topics such as voter participation outreach, business identity theft, records management, and elections efficacy. By discussing our successes and best practices we can develop more efficient and innovative policies for Vermont.”

During the conference, Secretary Condos was elected Treasurer of the NASS Executive Board. He will serve a one year term in this capacity and then is slated to become President-elect. The board meets at least twice a year and through his leadership role Secretary Condos hopes to make a positive contribution to the national discussion on important issues where Vermont has experienced success: voter registration, elections management, business services, transparency and overall excellence in customer service are a few of the topics he will focus on.

Founded in 1904, the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) is the oldest, nonpartisan professional organization of public officials in the United States. Members include the 50 states, the District of Columbia, American Samoa and Puerto Rico.

Secretary of State Jim Condos has over 30 years of elected public service, including 18 years at the local level and 8 years as a Vermont State Senator, and more than 30 years of private sector business experience.
